Presenter

Hi I'm Natalie and welcome to Talking Sport.

Today we're hearing about an archer from South Korea and we will be learning the phrase 'best hope'.

Im Dong-Hyun is an archer from South Korea.

At this year's Olympics he is hoping to win his first individual medal for archery.

BBC reporter John Sudworth has been to meet Im Dong-Hyun.

Listen for the phrase 'best hope' and listen for what medal the South Korean archery team won at the Beijing and Athens Olympic Games.

Clip

Im Dong-Hyun is probably South Korean archery's best hope of an individual gold Olympic medal at London 2012. South Korea won the team gold at both Beijing and Athens and Dong-Hyun was part of that team success but so far no Korean archer has ever won a men's individual Olympic gold.

We heard the phrase 'best hope'.

In this context best hope means the person who has the best chance of success.

"Im Dong-Hyun is probably South Korean archery's best hope of an individual gold medal."

Did you hear what medal the South Korean archery team won at the Olympic games in Beijing and Athens?

Yes, it was a gold medal.

"South Korea won the team gold at both Beijing and Athens"

Well we have heard that South Korea has won the team Olympic gold medal in archery but has never won an individual Olympic gold medal in archery.

So who do people in London think is Britain's best hope for a gold medal in this year's Olympics?

Vox pops

I think the cyclist Chris Hoy is Britain's best hope for an Olympic gold medal.

I think the diver Tom Daley is Britain's best hope for an Olympic gold medal.

I think the athlete Jessica Ennis is Britain's best hope for an Olympic gold medal.
